CONGRESS ENDS LONG SESSION

DIFFERENCES SPEEDILY SETTLED AND "FINISH" WRITTEN AT 4:30.

CLOSE IS HARMONIOUS

Members Forget Feuds and Grasp Hands in Jovial Good-Byes—Clark Thanks the House.

By The Associated Press.

Washington, Aug. 26.—Sobred by the enmeshments of Saturday's all-night session of filibusters and disagreements, congress adjourned its difference today, invited President Taft up to the capitol once more, and at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon wrote "finis" after the proceedings of the second session of the Sixty-second congress.

The end was marked with a return of harmony. Senator La Follette, demanding action on the penrose campaign fund resolution, found an opposition smoothed away in front of him and the resolution passed almost without discussion.

Sensors Culbertson, Martin, Swanson and Chamberlain, after fighting bitterly for the payment of the "extra claims" embodied in the general deficiency bill, yielded to the urgings of their colleagues and permitted the senate to yield to the demands of the house and strike these claims from the bill. In return for this concession, however, they received the promise of support next winter when the claims again will be pressed for payment.

No Extra Month's Pay. With these old claims, amounting to $400,000, went the "extra month's" pay for congressional employees, which the senate demanded and the house refused to give. In the last half hour of the session, while President Taft waited in his special room to sign the measures of the dying congress, an attempt was made to rush through a special resolution giving the employees the "extra month," but the house again blocked it.

The president signed the general deficiency bill at 4:10 o'clock, making certain the payment of the $1,500,000 deficiency in army pay, the $150,000 for the Gettysburg memorial celebration next year, the $350,000 for extension of customs work, and scores of other important payments that hinged on the passage of the bill.

Session "Fizzled Out" in the senate, to use the words of one observer. A comparative handful of members occupied their seats, and a call for a quorum in either the house or senate would have forced a return of the embarrassing situation of last week.

A wild outburst of applause greeted Speaker Clark's announcement of adjournment as his gavel fell in the house. The floor immediately became an animated scene, members bidding each other good-bye and shaking hands. Old-time political foes buried all differences and all feuds apparently were forgotten in the general leaving-taking.

Further animation and color was lent to the scene when the women flocked down from the galleries to join husbands and fathers on the floor. The corridors were crowded with tired, but happy, members and their families and friends, and Speaker Clark's room was crowded with friends and admirers. Just before he announced the adjournment, Speaker Clark addressed the house.

Clark Congratulates House. "As the hour of adjournment approaches," he said, "the speaker desires to congratulate the house on having reached the end of the longest and most laborious session on record. Congress has been actually in session more days since December than any congress that has ever sat. The speaker desires to thank all members of the house on both sides of the big aisle which separates us politically, but now as friends and patriots, for the uniform courtesy with which they have treated the speaker. I hope we will all reach home safely, all have an enjoyable vacation and will all return refreshed and invigorated for our work next winter."

Closing Scene in Senate. While waiting for adjournment time in the senate late in the day there was an even score of the senators on the floor when a resolution for adjournment at 4:30 o'clock was put through. A recess was taken until 4:10. Then began a 20-minute wait.

Secretary MacVeagh of the treasury department was on the floor. He wandered about in the little group of senators who were making their farewells and discussing campaign plans. In the center aisle Senator La Follette and Senator Clark were deep in discussion of prospects for the Penrose-Roosevelt investigation.

Senator Nelson of Minnesota awoke the senate for a moment to thank the presiding officers of the session, Senators Gallinger and Bacon. Senatorial dignity lost itself for the moment as the little group in the chamber applauded the speech. Senator Shively secured passage of a resolution thanking Vice President Sherman for his conduct as a presiding officer.

Then, as the hands of the clock slowly crawled to 4:30, Senator Gallinger, in the chair, arose and declared

TO NEED SIX MILLION THAT IS THE AMOUNT NECESSARY TO RUN THE STATE.

Estimates Being Filed Are Piling Up the Demands for Annual Needs.

Special to The Morning News.

Austin, Tex., Aug. 26.—Not less than $6,000,000 a year will be required to properly operate the governmental machinery of the state of Texas for the next two fiscal years, according to estimates that are now being filed by the heads of institutions and state departments with the comptroller's department for the attention of the Thirty-Third legislature.

Increased appropriations are asked by practically every state department, educational and eleemosynary institution in the state. It is already apparent that should the next legislature grant all that is requested and recommended by these institutions and departments, the total will greatly exceed $12,000,000 for the next two fiscal years, but it is not believed that the amount that will be finally allowed will fall much below the twelve million mark.

The appropriation urged by the departments and institutions for the Thirty-Second legislature was approximately $11,000,000, and by a well defined system of trimming the house and senate finance committees succeeded in bringing it down to something like $10,000,000, and then the governor took another whack at the general appropriation bill and when he finished the pruning process had brought the sum down to $9,604,611.

The expenses of the state government have in many instances increased during the past two years, new bureaus have been created and this will increase the appropriations needed. Besides, the democratic platform this year recommends liberal appropriations for the educational and eleemosynary institutions, and taking advantage of this situation, the heads of these institutions have not been slow in asking for more money. It will thus be readily observed that $6,000,000 a year is a conservative estimate.

Another important financial problem that the next legislature will have to face and solve, is the question of deficiencies. It is already apparent that there will be close on to $2,000,000 in deficiencies to take care of. This will include a deficiency of probably half a million dollars for the state penitentiary system and also the deficiency of $300,000 for the new main building and new mess hall of the Agricultural and Mechanical College.

Tax collectors of Texas will have to do some heavy collections to gather in sufficient cash with which to meet this great increase in the cost of maintenance of this state, especially in the face of the fact that the state ad valorem tax rate has been reduced from 12 1/2 to 10 cents on the $100 property valuation.

WOULD UNSEAT GOVERNOR.

Petition Circulated for Recall of California Executive.

San Francisco, Aug. 26.—A petition for the recall of Governor Hiram Johnson has been put in circulation here by V. A. Udell, an attorney. Udell could not be found today. Investigation failed to show that he had any powerful support in offering the petition.

One of the charges made in the petition is that Governor Johnson approved legislation intended to foster land grabbing by wealthy individuals.

WOMAN PEDDLES COCAINE.

Carries Small Bottle of the Drug in Her Stocking.

Dallas, Tex., Aug. 26.—She lifted her skirts high as she stepped daintily across a mud hole at Hord and Griffin streets. Officers Scott and Sayers saw her do it.

The observant patrolmen spotted a suspicious bulge in the lady's hose, and asked her to stop. Officer Scott was elected to do the searching and from the innermost recesses of the woman's stocking produced three bottles filled with cocaine. Three more bottles were found in the other sock, and the fair prisoner was taken to the city jail where the contents of the embryonic drug store was turned over to Captain Farley as evidence. "The woman was taking the cocaine to peddle in North Dallas," the officers explained in police court this morning. She pleaded guilty to vagrancy and was fined $10.

SLUMP $1.25 YESTERDAY

Unless Present Graft Is Curbed, Texas Will Lose Million Dollars in September.

By The Associated Press.

Washington, Aug. 26.—At the end of a three-days' fight, in which Senator La Follette's threat of a continued filibuster hung over the senate to force consideration, that body today passed the penrose resolution calling for a complete investigation of the campaign contributions of John D. Archbold and George W. Perkins and of all financial transactions and correspondence relating thereto between the two financiers and Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, representatives in congress and members of the senate of the United States.

Objections to the resolution died out in the final hours of the session. When the senate met at noon it had been mutually agreed that no opposition would be made to Senator La Follette's request for action. Based on the charges made by Senator Penrose that the Standard Oil company had contributed $100,000 to the Roosevelt fund in 1904, the resolution had been amended by Senators Ponder and Penrose to cover respectively all the activity of Mr. Archbold and Mr. Perkins of a political nature.

Investigation Starts Sept. 30. The resolution, once before the senate, passed with little discussion and with no votes in the negative. One important change made gives witnesses the right to have attorneys at the hearings before the senate committee. Senator Clapp, chairman of the subcommittee, which will conduct the investigation, said today that his committee probably would not reconvene before Sept. 30.

Senator Clapp today asked Chairman Dillingham of the committee on privileges and elections to appoint another democratic member to take the place of Senator Paynter on the subcommittee. Senator Dillingham had already designated Senator Pomerene of Ohio to take the place of Senator Lea of Tennessee, who resigned. Senator Paynter has notified Senator Clapp that he cannot serve longer.

"There was a general understanding among the members of the committee," said Senator Clapp tonight, "that if the Penrose resolution passed we would resume our investigation at the end of September. The passage of the resolution will make no material change in our plans except to widen somewhat the scope of the inquiry."

Senator La Follette stated he intended to make public a complete schedule of his expenses as a candidate for the republican nomination for president. This statement, he said, would embrace practically all information that he could give on the witness stand before the senate committee, but the Wisconsin senator expects to appear before the committee.

Senator Clapp stated he had not been decided at what time Colonel Roosevelt would appear or what other witnesses would testify.

Local Receipts. Receipts of about 125 bales at the Waco cotton yards yesterday brought the total for the season up to approximately 1,000 bales.

In their efforts to keep up with the heavy balance of the week and next Saturday the number of bales brought in is expected to even exceed that of last Saturday, when the receipts reached 760, the largest of any one day in the history of Waco. The hot weather is causing cotton to open very rapidly, and the farmers have been rushing their crops in as fast as gathered.

Nearly every bale brought in so far has been sold as fast as it was ginned. In their efforts to keep up with the fast-opening crop, farmers who came to Waco yesterday made a thorough canvass for pickers, and several reported that they were unable to get any. They are offering 60 to 75 cents a hundred, pickers to board themselves.

With a good rain within the next two weeks, farmers say the yield will be greatly augmented. Otherwise no more fruit will be put on and much of the fruitage now on the stalk will drop off before maturing.

DON'T WANT NEGRO ELKS.

Suit Filed to Keep Blacks from Using Name and Badge.

Dayton, Ohio, Aug. 26.—Suit to enjoin the Improved Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks of the World, an organization of negroes, from using the name "Elks," as well as the badge and insignia of the order, was filed in common pleas court here today by W. A. George and A. J. Dwyer of the local lodge of Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks.

The opening session of the national convention of negroes, which will last one week, began here tonight.

NEGRO SHOOT HIS WIFE.

Hillsboro, Tex., Aug. 26.—About 2 o'clock this morning at Whitney, ten miles west of here, Otis Williams, a negro, shot and killed his wife, using a single barrel shotgun, the killing being done at the home of another colored family, where she had been stopping since leaving her husband Saturday.

Williams, it is said, went to the house and arousing her from sleep, asked whether she was going home, and when she answered in the negative he discharged the contents of the gun into her left side, the wound producing instant death.

Williams was brought here and placed in jail.

NEGRO SUSPECT ARRESTED.

Dallas, Aug. 26.—Sheriff Brandenburg of Dallas county, returned here today with Ed Christian, a negro arrested yesterday by the sheriff in Limestone county. Christian is charged with implication in the murder of Henry Bennett, a special Texas & Pacific officer in Dallas in September, 1910.

REBELS NEAR THE BORDER

UNITED STATES KEEPS KEEN EYE ON MEXICO BY LAND AND SEA.

By The Associated Press.

Washington, Aug. 26.—The navy resources on the Pacific coast have been drawn upon to such an extent that should further trouble be encountered in Nicaragua beyond the power of the present forces now there, or en route, to cope with, or should some of the American lives or interests in other Central or South American countries be jeopardized the army will be called upon to assist the marines. The tenth infantry, now on the Panama canal zone, would be the first to answer the call.

The accident to the gunboat Vicksburg, reported today, is serious, because it takes practically the last available vessel from duty on the west coast. The state department says it must have a vessel for the Mexican coast. The navy has none, except the cruiser Cleveland, which has just been taken out of reserve to Nicaragua. These orders have been rescinded and the Cleveland ordered to overtake the Vicksburg at Magdalena bay and escort her back to Mare Island for repairs. This will take 10 days. The Cleveland will then proceed to carry out the Vicksburg's orders. There are a number of vessels in reserve on the Pacific coast, but there are no men for them and there is no provision for increasing the enlistments.

General Salazar's army of 800 rebels has appeared in the vicinity of Hachita, about 60 miles south of Nogales and ten miles below the international line.

General Steever reports to the war department that the refugees from Hachita complained that the rebels killed their pet deer and goats and pigs, ate all the chickens they could find and were so impolite as to stable their horses in the parlors of the best houses of the village. The rebels, when last seen were headed for San Luis Pass, entering Sonora. Gomez, one of the rebel leaders, is reported to be sick in Ascension and deserted by his command.

BIG FOUR ICE HAS BURN OUT

FIRE DESTROYS ENGINE ROOM AND ROOF OF BOILER ROOM.

DAMAGE IS VERY HEAVY

Other Concerns Are Involved Because
Depending on the Plant for Power and Refrigeration.

An estimate is hard to make on the loss which was caused by the fire which originated in the boiler room of the Big Four Ice company yesterday, because the actual damage by fire is not all that will be the cost to the various business interests involved.

The day shift engine room men had just come on watch before the fire originated. It was seen above the boiler room in the inflammable roof and began sweeping south to the roof over the engine room. B. P. Jones, the day engineer, his oiler and a colored fireman, W. H. Johns, were the only men at the plant at the time. Engineer Jones saw the sweep of the flames, and at once hurried into the engine room and cut off all engines and called to his fireman to shut off the steam and flood the boilers. This was done in the space of a few seconds, the cry of fire was sounded, and an alarm sent in. It was a very short time until the department arrived, and all available apparatus and all men were pressed into service.

Interior Was of Wood.

The walls of the building were of brick, but the interior construction was of wood, and above the wood of the boiler room was a roof of rubber composition, and above the engine room a corrugated iron roof. The flames burned fiercely and only by uniting the efforts of all the firemen on the blaze was Chief Prescott able to keep the fire within the boiler and engine room. At times it appeared that the entire block would go. He put all the steamers on the fire, and at one time had twelve or fourteen streams of water going. A great many gathered about the place expected explosions of the boilers, but the forethought of Engineer Jones prevented this. However, several of the ammonia tanks exploded and this served to push the crowd back.

The firemen confined the destruction to the interior of the boiler and engine rooms, but all the machinery was badly damaged, some of it damaged beyond repair, but a lot of it that can be rebuilt and used. It is believed the boilers were uninjured, but this is to be decided upon later, a boiler inspector having been telegraphed to make the necessary examination.

Chief Engineer Jacob J. Schade was summoned by telephone as soon as the fire was discovered. He had been up until 3 a. m., working on one of the engines, which needed immediate attention, and he had not reported again at the plant when the fire began. He came at once and assisted materially in directing the work of the firemen and later in the salvage.

Origin in Boiler Room.

The fire originated in the boiler room probably from the fire box of an oil burner. The officers of the plant did not vouchsafe exact information regarding the origin, but the theory is that one of the oil burners lost its flame; that the oil fed in, through the burner into the hot fire box generated a gas; that a flame got into the fire box in some way, or some of the gas reached across to another burner, and a sheet of flame went up the flue as a result, setting fire to the waste work above. The dry wood of the upper structure immediately began to burn, and it could not be contained at once.

The plant of the Big Four company was a power, light, steam and ice plant, with refrigeration for the use of the company and for commercial purposes. It consisted of five 150 horsepower boilers, one 70-ton ice machine, one 50-ton ice machine, one 25-ton ice machine, one electric generator of 100 k.w. capacity and one of 25 k.w. capacity. One of the engines had been recently installed at a cost of between $1300 and $1500. All of this machinery is more or less damaged by the fire.

Other Concerns Affected.

The fire had a very widespread effect on several business concerns which are separate and distinct as to ownership from the Big Four plant, however, their losses being heavy, but of a peculiar kind. The Progress laundry, Turner & Coffield company, the M. B. Ice Cream company, the Waco Fish market and Eugene Trott all depended on the Big Four for refrigeration or power. Their loss results from

VALUE OF PLANT JUICE.

Many people will be interested in the following statement made by Mr. E. E. Ellis, whose home is 225 Stewart street, Beaumont, Texas, and who is an oiler for the S. P. railroad. He says:

"I never thought anything would do me as much good as Plant Juice has. I have suffered from liver and kidney trouble for a long time and one can hardly realize what he has been through until he is cured and feels sound and well. A sluggish liver upsets the whole system, and weak kidneys can pull a man down pretty fast. I read the statements of many others about Plant Juice and then I tried it. The result has been great, and whenever I can direct a sufferer to it I will for he will be sure to thank me forever after."

For liver and kidney ailments, as well as those of the stomach and blood, Plant Juice is the greatest curative of the age. If you have indigestion, pains in back, head or joints, poor appetite, nervousness, insomnia, poor circulation, or feel rundown and tired you will find the invigorating and vitalizing effects of Plant Juice just what you need. Sold at Old Corner drug store.

The shut down of the refrigerating plant or the power plant, as the case may be, and is what is called in the insurance world, "consequential damage." The Progress laundry got all of its power, steam and water from the Big Four.

The Turner-Coffield company got their refrigeration from the Big Four. The M. B. Ice Cream company got power from the Big Four.

Waco Fish market had fish stored in the refrigerating plant.

Eugene Trott had beer stored in the refrigerating plant.

Consequential Loss.

Their losses will be from the interference with their business during the time it is necessary to make repairs. All who were asked about it yesterday stated they knew of no policies being carried on "consequential damage," but that class of insurance is written in connection with a fire policy, the form used reading as follows:

"The conditions of this contract are, that this company agrees to be liable only for such loss or damage to the property covered, not exceeding the sum insured under this policy, as may be caused by change of temperature resulting from the total or partial destruction by fire of the refrigerating or cooling apparatus, connections or supply pipes, or by the interruption by fire of refrigerating or cooling processes."

"It is understood and agreed that the liability assumed by this company hereunder shall be only such proportion of the actual loss and damage above specified, as the amount insured under this policy bears to the total value of the property hereby covered."

The M. B. Ice Cream Company.

The M. B. Ice Cream company adjoins the Big Four, fronting on Eighth street between Franklin and Mary. Mr. McLendon is the manager. It is equipped with 35 horsepower of electric energy in all sizes from one-quarter h.p. to 40 h.p. The power to drive these motors is secured from the Big Four company, the M. B. company having its own cold storage rooms. The destruction of the engine room takes away the power from the M. B. company, and it cannot connect with the Texas Power and Light company lines as all of its motors are 110 h.p., while the light company is on a 220 A. C. system. Yesterday Mr. McLendon arranged to secure a motor to run a 20-ton ice machine, and it is being put in service at once. The cold storage room will hold for 24 hours, and by that time he will be able to take up the business. In the meantime Mr. McLendon has ordered new motors from Dallas by wire, to be shipped by express, so that he can get connection with the A. C. current of the light and power company. His damage by stoppage cannot be estimated. His plant is still running, however, but it is slow work for the men who have been using machines to break up ice with an ice pick.

Turner-Coffield Company.

The Turner-Coffield company had four cold storage rooms connected with the Big Four plant. They had room in their storage for seven or eight cars of stuff. Until better arrangements are made, they will take care of their perishable stuff in cars, relying as often as is necessary and paying demurrage to the railroads.

The Progress Laundry.

The Progress laundry at once made arrangements to handle their business through other laundries of the city so as not to disappoint their customers.

Eugene Trott arranged to move his stuff so as to get it in cold places.

Frogs and Fish in Ice Cakes.

The Waco Fish Market had eighty-five cakes of ice frozen solid with fish and frogs. These were in the cold storage rooms, and in order to prevent spoiling wagons went to the plant and took these to the Geyser Ice Company where Mr. Luedde arranged to take care of them in his big ice rooms. It was a pretty sight to see those cakes of ice drawn out, each full of fine fat fish and frogs. One would hardly imagine there were so many fish this side of salt water. Manager Ben C. Richards estimated that he had about 10,000 worth of fish in storage, but none of it will be lost.

Eggs in Cold Storage.

In the cold storage rooms of the Big Four company were $40,000 worth of eggs. These eggs belong to merchants all over Central Texas and were being held here until they were needed. Just how many eggs there are in a lot of $40,000 worth it is hard to tell, but if they are valued at 20 cents a dozen that would make the lot run up to 200,000 dozen. Just do a little figuring on your own account, and fix the price at what you pay for them, and estimate the number of dozen.

Manager McLendon of the M. B. Ice Cream Company arranged to take care of the refrigeration on the eggs with the twenty ton machine which he put to work at once.

No Danger of an Ice Famine.

As soon as the fire was known, G. L. Luedde of August A. Busch & Co., owners of the Geyser Ice Company, tendered all their facilities to the Big Four people to supply their trade, and there will be no interruption in this business. The Big Four wagons will make their regular deliveries, and supply their own customers. The Geyser plant has a capacity of 200 tons of ice a day. It was built at a time when the surrounding country was supplied with ice from Waco, but so many small ice plants have sprung up around here that the Geyser plant has not been running at its full capacity. It was immediately put to work yesterday morning, and there will be ice enough for all.

SECOND FIRE BREAKS OUT.

An Old Building at the Corner of Eighth and Mary Damaged.

During the afternoon, at 2:45 o'clock a second fire was discovered. It was the direct result of the first. On the corner of Eighth and Mary streets is an old building which was built many years ago. It was two stories, of red brick, with a round corner, and it has in the past thirty years been used for various kinds of business. It has been owned for thirty years by Tom Padgett, but a few months ago he sold it to Alfred Abeel, and it was the intention of Mr. Abeel to tear it down soon and rebuild.

This building was occupied by various and sundry establishments of large and small nature. It was just across an open lot from the wall of the engine room of the Big Four plant. During the afternoon smoke was seen coming out of the upper windows, and the theory is that fire from the blaze of the forenoon set burning the accumulations in the storage room above.

The fire department was again sent for, and several streams of water were put inside the building and the fire extinguished. There was a great deal of loss to the contents of this building by water.

Household Goods Upstairs.

The entire upper floor of this corner building was occupied by the McCrary Moving and Storage Company. It was full of furniture and household goods belonging to people who Mr.

OKLAHOMA AND NAVARRO COUNTY ARE ANALAGOUS

Both Sections "Dry" But Citizens Want Liquor and Get It-Prohibition Also Fails to Help
Cleburne Pass Temple in Population or Business.

OTHER INSTANCES CITED OF PROHIBITION'S FAILURE

Conditions in Navarro county and Corsicana are the same as in Oklahoma. Records supplied by the express companies show. The people want prohibition, according to the vote cast at the last local option election in Navarro county, but they also want liquor and get it. Here are the records:

The books of the express companies doing business in Corsicana show that between Feb. 1 and Sept. 9, 1911, there had been shipped into Corsicana 1476 kegs of beer, 139,444 pint bottles of beer, 15,813 quarts of whiskey, approximate cost $48,200.

The receipts for Saturday, Sept. 9, 1911, included 256 quarts of whiskey, 32 kegs of beer, 939 pint bottles of beer.

Records of shipments of liquor into other Navarro county towns, which were as "dry" as Corsicana, show at Kerens, population 945: August, 1911, 6 kegs of beer, 2246 pints of beer, 745 quarts of whiskey.

At Blooming Grove, population 903, December, 1910, 318 pints of beer, 4 kegs of beer and 1902 quarts of whiskey; Jan. 1 to Sept. 12, 1911, 118 kegs of beer, 74,784 pints of beer and 3510 quarts of whiskey.

At Frost, December, 1910, one keg of beer, 360 pints of beer, 950 quarts of whiskey; Jan. 1 to Sept. 12, 1911, 22 kegs of beer, 6775 pints of beer and 3115 quarts of whiskey.

Whole Sum Enormous.

Add these figures to the record of Corsicana and then consider what it means.

The showing at Frost is not what it ought to be and does not show the actual receipts for the reason that most of the consumers there ship their beer from Waco to Mertens and go over there in hand cars, autos and other ways and take it home to drink because it is fresher and cooler by that route. The record is for one month only at Kerens, the rest of the books having been shipped to St. Louis.

Blooming Grove is the seat of the Methodist training school, and has been under prohibition for 20 years. The records are taken from the express books' records and are sworn to before the railway commission. According to the record of Blooming Grove it will be seen that almost a gallon of the fluid was shipped to every person. DOES THAT LOOK LIKE PROHIBITION PROHIBITS?

Foreign Dealers Benefit.

Every dollar of money sent out of Corsicana and Navarro county for liquor went to swell the purses of the dealers in other cities and if prohibition is adopted in McLennan county a much larger sum will be sent out from over the county alone, Waco excepted. The outgo from Waco will be something enormous.

This immense volume of business will pay no rents in Waco; it will pay no interest, and will not bear its legitimate share of the burdens of taxation. Nevertheless, the liquor will be delivered and consumed without the existence of a number of $500 bonds to protect the wife, mother, daughter and sister of the habitual drunkard or the father and mother of the minor.

Will any honest man who knows the history of Corsicana deny that intoxicants will be delivered to and consumed by boys of tender years in Waco?

WITH SALOONS AND WITHOUT

COMPARISON OF TEMPLE AND CLEBURNE IS INTEREST-ING NOW.

FIGURES OF THE CENSUS

Temple Goes Ahead of Cleburne, But Was Behind Ten Years Before,
So Figures Say.

Cleburne, without saloons, and Temple, with saloons, make an interesting comparison and refute the statement that a dry town is more progressive and increases more rapidly in population. The government census figures for 1900 and 1910 follow:

Cleburne—1900, population 7493, Year 1910, 10,364.
Temple—1900, 7665, Year 1910, 10,992.

Temple had just lost the shops as they were moved to Cleburne, and fully 500 people went with them. This accounts for Cleburne having more people than Temple in 1900. But the last census shows that Temple has gone ahead of that city in population, in wealth, in taxable values and in every other way.

You can go to any part of the state and you will hear some man or set of men sing praises of Temple; that it is the best town in the state of its size, the best little town; one of the best, and many other complimentary remarks; but what do you hear from Brownwood or from Cleburne? The towns are about the same size. Nothing—they are needing rain or something that will make a good town, but the last remark invariably is this, "It has been a good town."

STRIPPED IN A STORM.

British Steamship Reaches Port Minus
Men and Sheets.

By The Associated Press.

San Francisco, Aug. 26.—The British ship, Port Patrick, from New York, has reached Adelaide, Australia, minus her mate, two seamen, a suit of sails and the ship's stores, according to advices received here today. The Port Patrick, sailing January 2, met her first storm one day out and her last on the day before she reached Adelaide and saw no fair weather.

Two weeks out a northeast gale drove a wave over her stern and snapped off her wheel, carrying the two steersmen to their death. Sweeping forward, the comber wrenched away the wheel box and two compasses, smashed the cabin skylight and flooded the ship's stores. The chart house was crumpled up and as the ship, free from her help, rolled into the trough of the sea, the wind stripped her upper canvas and tore the rest to ribbons.

A temporary steering gear rescued her this time and with makeshift sails she weathered the gale after gale until she made the Australian coast. The mate died of heart disease.

TO BE OPERATED FROM TEXAS.

Katy System Will Look to Dallas for Orders.

Special to The Morning News.

Dallas, Aug. 26.—According to statements of employees of the Katy railroad, the company will not be ready to enter its new office building on Commerce and Market streets before Sept. 10.

On Sept. 1 the Katy system will be operated entirely from the Dallas office, according to statements of officers. The system will be under the personal supervision of Vice President Webb at Dallas. No formal announcement as to the exact date of the proposed change has yet been made, but those connected with the local office say that it will be Sept. 1, as originally planned.

Vice President Webb is at present engaged in an inspection trip of all the Katy lines which will be under his control. He is now somewhere in the state of Missouri, and is expected back before the first of next month.

The Waco Morning News in its 58th page edition, July 28, outlined the plans of the Katy and stated the operation of the line would be altogether from the Dallas office.

NEGRO SHOOTS LAWYER.

By The Associated Press.

Shreveport, La., Aug. 26.—Percy Alexander, the young lawyer who was shot through the body last night by Sam Johnson, the half-witted negro, is still alive and hopes are entertained for his recovery.

Johnson was seen twice during the early hours of the morning, but made his escape each time before the police could be summoned. He appeared at two homes near the scene of the shooting, asking ladies to telephone to the Jacobs home, where Alexander was visiting at the time of the assault, his idea being to discover if Alexander had been killed.

MESDAMES BURLESON AT HOME FOR MRS. EUGENE SALLEE

This afternoon will find an informal reception in the Burleson home on South Ninth. This is in honor of Mrs. Eugene Sallee and the opportunity to spend the partying guest, for Mrs. Sallee is returning to her mission work in China in the next few days. DINNER FOR BROOKS PEARSON A BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

Mrs. Brooks Pearson arranged a stag dinner out at the Huaco club as the birthday celebration for Mr. Pearson. The table was set with the daisy and the conundrum place card used. Special dishes were added to the menu, and other provisions such as stage enjoy, were made. By a ruse Mr. Pearson was decoyed to the club, there to find his guests and the pleased wife in waiting. The dinner was served out on the piazza, and it well consumed the evening for the congenial company. Those present were: Ralph McLendon, George Rotan, Clinton Padgett, Beverly Manton, Sidney Burrows, Adrian Moore, Ira Seley, Coke Westbrook, Albert Boggess and the birthday host.

THE NAUGHTY DANCES GO, SAY THE ONES WHO KNOW

The culture of Waco social life is a safeguard against the new dances which have questionable origin and which are ungraceful, to put it in the mildest term. Concerning the attitude of Dallas society, the following is clipped from Viewpoint, the arbiter of Waco social, in the city to our north:

"It is considered very wrong to dance the naughty dances. The Grizzly Bear, 'The Bunny Hug,' 'Jelly Dance,' 'Turkey Trot,' 'Texas Tommy.' In fact, it places a stamp on you that's hard to erase if you do indulge in them. It's perhaps all right if your father's worth a million and you do it just for fun, but most of us cannot boast such a luxury as this and it's just as well for all of us to appear respectable. The ban has been put upon these dances in every respectable place in the country. While on the subject of dancing, there's nothing more hideously ugly than the Boston Dip, with women's skirts so narrow there's scarcely sitting room and then to undertake to dip to the floor every other step, is nothing less than vulgar."

HINTS FOR SCHOOL LUNCH REMINDS OF AMUSING NOTE

In the September journals which pertain to woman and her home, the timely subject of the school lunch is discussed. This is really a vital question in child life, and the wise mother gives the child that which is nutritious for brain and body. Among the first to give attention to this was Mrs. Percy V. Pennybacker. This was when her daughter was a tiny girl. Mrs. Pennybacker relates that she studied the science of food, that which produced muscle, that which produced blood, that which sustained pressure, and so on. Then, Mrs. Pennybacker says she carefully diagnosed the situation, made a menu for each school day, and provided that within the week the daughter should have had every phase of nourishing food. But listen to the result. The first Monday morning the lunch basket was filled. The daughter started, the mother proud in the feeling that a layer of brain tissue would come from that lunch before the afternoon was gone by. When the return from school was made, the first question was, "And how did my little girl enjoy her lunch?" The reply came, "Just fine, mama. I did not like the old brown bread and what you had, so I traded it to the little Dago girl for a pig's foot and pickles, and it was so good." The irrepressible!

A BIRTHDAY SURPRISE FOR MRS. W. E. COLGIN

It was quite adroitly arranged by Mrs. Merchant Colgin that Mrs. W. E. Colgin should be surprised upon her birthday. This was a dual celebration since the honoree is just in her handsome new home, and the "surprise" found the neighbors in for a housewarming. Each was accompanied by a gift for the lady, the green house or some spot which would be a pleasing reminder of the first days when the home was not arranged. Mrs. Merchant Colgin invited the guests, and prepared the refreshment feature. Mrs. Colgin happened down town and the arrivals were made during her absence. Her return found the parlors filled, and each guest ready with her verse to read in presenting her gift. Besides, there had been provided a number of night letter blanks and the fun of the afternoon was in writing ten lines on each according to a prescribed rule. But the crown of it all was the appearance of the birthday cake with its sixteen burning candles in the suggestion that this mother and grandmother would never be more of age than "sweet sixteen." The bowl of frozen punch and the angel food was in reserve to make the refreshment feature. In all, Mrs. Colgin's birthday ended in a very happy surprise.

THE REAL SOCIETY WOMAN IS FOUND EVERYWHERE

There has never been blasted the old idea that a society woman is she who plays cards and goes to the theater. It is true that the woman of wealth and leisure can indulge these frivolous pastimes more frequently than the woman whose time is more in demand at home. It is true that the woman of the world takes more kindly to worldly pleasure than the woman whose life is centered in her home and her church. But there should be no line of demarcation when a woman comes to be called a "society woman." The word society is derived from the Latin word which means a companion. Does not this companionship exist in the home, in the neighborhood, in the church, in the club, and in the so-called "society"? And, if companions are not the same courtesies interchanged? Is it not obligatory for the woman to possess and to practice the same rules of intercourse? Is it more imperative that a woman who calls by invitation should be more cordially welcomed than she who makes the common social call? Are not the duties of hostesses the same? Is the mistress of the table not as much the social dispenser of hospitality when she has her minister to dinner as when she is entertaining with a high life dinner party?

The "society" woman is she who has the culture and the refinement of the true woman; it is the woman who has the air of refinement wherever she is found; it is she who knows and follows the golden rule; it is she who is gentle, refined and thoughtful in every phase of life. The plea here is that the women who are in the everyday avocations realize that society is wherever more than one is together, and that it is just as much the duty to her home for the woman who never saw a card or who never entered a theater, to cast the social graces around her home as it is for the woman who entertains, and in other ways meets the general but mistaken idea of what constitutes a "society woman."

Society Notes.

Miss Ida Duke is at home from the East. Mrs. Mary Manton, who took the trip with her, remains absent until cooler weather.

Miss Katherine Lattimore, who has been absent since June and who visited various points in Alabama and Tennessee, has reached home. She is with her parents in their country home.

Mrs. R. B. Dupree of Austin street, who has summered in the North with her daughter, Mrs. Yantis of Brownwood, is due at home on Sunday. She comes from Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Cooper have written that their sailing date for America is September the seventh. This means that they are soon to be at home.

Miss Eddie May Higgins is now the guest of Mrs. Lillian Parrott Lyons in San Francisco. They both reach Waco with the early days of October.

Mrs. J. C. Kelly, who had spent the season in the Brownsville country, has reopened her home on Eleventh and Jefferson.

Miss Beattie Byrd Burleson has added to the other pleasures of her extended trip the sight of Mammoth Cave, which she has visited with a party of friends. She returns home in time for the Baylor University opening.

Mrs. Roy Coleman, who is enjoying the coast with a party of friends from San Antonio, reports a delightful outing, and the sight of Wacoans everywhere.

It is pleasing news to the many friends of Miss Nettie May Hill to hear that her eyes have yielded to treatment, and that she will soon be at home from Dallas and other points, which she is now visiting. This means that the cultivation of Miss Hill's promising voice can be continued.

It is now the intention of Mesdames George Rotan and W. H. Jones to leave Massachusetts for Waco on Wednesday. This opens two more of the Columbus street homes with the coming week.

NEGRO PROBLEM KNOTTY.

By The Associated Press.

Fight in American Bar Association to Unseat Three Blacks.

Milwaukee, Wis., Aug. 26.—The right of the American Bar Association after it has once seated a member to oust him on the ground that it has been discovered that he is a negro will be tested, said Attorney General Wick-ersham, who arrived today to attend the opening of the association's thirty-fifth annual meeting here tomorrow.

He came to defend the title of Wm. H. Lewis, negro, an assistant to the attorney general, to a seat in the association. His membership was revoked by the executive committee on the charge that the committee elected him without knowing he was a negro. Two other negro members similarly are affected. They are Butler R. Wilson, Boston, and Wm. R. Morris, Minneapolis.

The executive committee has prepared a special report declaring it has been against the association's policy to admit negro members and saying that Lewis, Wilson and Morris were seated without the fact that they were negroes being known.

Simon E. Baldwin of New Haven, Conn., delivered the tenth address as director before the comparative bureau today.

TEXAS SECURITIES.

Our San Antonio morning contemporary hands us this: "The Express recently commented approvingly upon a suggestion by The Waco Morning News that Texas securities should, as far as possible, be handled by Texas financiers. Then The News explained that its idea was not so much that Texas capitalists should handle Texas city and county bonds as that these bonds should be sold to the poor and the middle classes, as well, so that all might be more interested in their home affairs, while finding a good investment for their savings. The theory is a good one, the only particular objection to it being that in most cases such bonds do not carry a rate of interest that would justify a small investment. There are many opportunities in Texas to get good returns from investments in town and city lots, lands, etc., much better than could be secured from investments in bonds. However, there are some who would prefer the bonds, and they should have chances to invest in them."

The average Texas municipal, district and county bond pays a higher rate of interest than the savings banks—the postal or the other kind. And they are far preferable to some of the ten dollars down and five dollars a week for life town lot investments we know of. Issued in small denominations and sold over city hall or court house counters, such bonds form an ideal source of investment for small savings. The danger of losing them, that is ever present in the case of town lot installment plan purchases, is not there to worry their owners. Furthermore, they are the same as money and can be used in making investments in city or acreage or any other kind of property when a good opportunity for doing so presents itself. In the meantime they are earning interest and their possession gets their owners into the habit of saving the few surplus dollars they manage to get hold of. The main idea, though, is to keep the interest the bonds bear from leaving the state. Any citizen, rich or poor, ought to welcome an opportunity to assist in doing that.

LOCAL FREIGHT SERVICE.

The Santa Fe railroad announces that it will run daily cotton trains with the same regularity as passenger trains this season in order to facilitate the movement of cotton through the port of Galveston for the convenience of shippers. This is a splendid move and suggests further improvements in freight service. If these special cotton trains prove as satisfactory as we think they will, railroad traffic men may take a notion to try applying the principle governing their adoption to the movement of local freight.

As a rule railroad operators seek to establish records for the transmission of freight, but let local freight take care of itself. Yet there is more money in local freight than in through freight, despite the arguments that are sometimes offered to the contrary.

A great deal of merchandise moves by express that would move by local freight if reasonably good service of the latter kind could be depended upon. A look at the stuff that is unloaded from express cars at any station will reveal the fact that much of it is not, strictly speaking, express matter, and that its transportation as such is productive of delay in the movement of passenger trains without profit to the railroads.

Local freight is usually carelessly received, carelessly loaded and carelessly distributed. The conductor and the brakeman to whose care it is entrusted have their train to look after first. Sometimes they unload local freight at the station to which it was billed; sometimes they leave the car containing the shipment on a side track for the local agent to unload, or they may haul it past its station, to be buffered about for a number of days. The result is that much freight is either lost or damaged. As a matter of fact, the bulk of the claims the railroads are asked to pay originate in the heedless handling of local shipments.

If local freight is worth moving at all, it is worth looking after in a way that will encourage shippers to patronize local freight trains and render their operation profitable. The sums that are paid out in settlement of local freight would more than pay the salaries of a special man on each train to look after its receipt and delivery, as well as the salaries of necessary helpers to do the loading and unloading. It is false economy to require a conductor and his brakemen to look after these matters. Their business is to run a train, and if they do that properly they have little time left for looking after the disposition of the loads they are required to move.

The average traffic or train operating official will probably resent the suggestion that the local freight service is not what it ought to be, but some day some obscure freight agent, in looking around for a plain to make a record with, will hit upon the one outlined above, and the result of its adoption will make him great, if the express companies don't wake up to what is about to be done to them in time to head him off.

THE PEOPLE PAY THE FREIGHT.

The railroads of Texas are taking the people into partnership with them in one thing at least, and the partnership proposal is one that is so very important that it is certain to command the time and respect of thinking men.

The corporations want the people to help reduce the expense of operating the properties.

That is all there is to it, but that is a great deal. Suppose we look at it from the standpoint of the railroads, as set forth in a half-page announcement that was recently published in all the papers of Texas over the signature of the general managers of Texas lines. They set forth the situation thus wise:

They are but trustees for the owners.

All rates are made by the Texas commission.

The owners are entitled to a fair earning on their investment, and are entitled to rates high enough to pay their fixed charges.

The railroad commission must take into consideration every fixed charge, and allow for extraordinary expenses, in fixing rates.

The people must pay the freight.

Given a situation of this kind, wherein the people have taken charge of the rate-making authority, established it, put their elective officers on the tribunal and have passed laws requiring the railroads to come before that tribunal and receive its orders, it follows that the people must give due consideration to the rights of the owners of the properties. The matter of expense is not guess work. The science of management has taught the railroads how to figure to a cent the cost of handling a train per mile; it has taught them how to figure absolutely the cost of every duty they perform for the public, and they can readily show what this has been for any special period of time.

But the public is very badly fooled, if it believes that the mere operation of the train between two points by trainmen, at a certain fuel cost and a certain wage scale, constitutes all the expense of a freight haul. Every item of expense which enters into the control, management, operation, repair, advertising, adjustment and when rates are fixed, the rate-making body is advised of the cost of all these things, and there is an allowance to cover it.

Therefore, if the state requires by law certain things of the railroad companies, which are an added expense to the companies, the commission takes into consideration the addition. These are the things which the general managers desire the people to know.

We believe that the laws should be so framed as to require safety in transportation, comfort, convenience, sufficient trains, prompt movement of freight and passengers, and due regard for the health, recreation, safety and pay of the employees. These things should be required of the companies by conservative laws. But added expenses, under the power of the statute, which are unnecessary, and are caused by agitation by narrow-minded men who happen to be vested with power as legislators, ought to be frowned upon by all the people, all the time.

While the fire which destroyed the Big Four Ice company engine and boiler room was a serious affair, it could have been worse. Had there been a less capable fire department, the entire block would today be but ashes and debris, but with the perseverance and energy which has made Waco's department the strongest in the country, the destruction was kept within narrow limits. It happens that the most valuable machinery was located just where the fire started, which makes the loss so heavy. However, the owners of the big property are philosophical; they will pocket the loss without complaint, and upon the same site there will be erected a greater and a bigger plant. There will be no ice famine because the Geyser company is of such great capacity that it can supply the needs of the people while the other plant is rebuilding, and Mr. Luedde has been generous in his offers of assistance to his neighbors who have had this misfortune. He Abael is a substantial citizen; Mr. Abael has many interests in Waco, and this fire loss will not deter him from the work of building and improvement which he had heretofore planned and which will be more extensive, now that he has a destroyed property to replace.

Waco was well represented in that magnificent cadet corps at the Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas upon which Captain Simmons of the United States army, has just made such a complimentary report. Young Torrence of Waco, was chief bugler of the regiment of students, and there were other Waco boys in the formation that made such a fine showing on dress parade. Colonel Milner, as president, is to be congratulated on the high standing the military department has reached under his executive direction.

The magnificence of Hotel Galvez, the charms of Bettison's pier, the exhilaration of the beach seaway, nor the delights of a sail on the bay were not sufficient in their combined attraction to wean any of our Waco folk from this city to Galveston. They like Galveston very much as a place to visit, but when it comes to home and business, they want to live in Waco. The Young Men's Business league did not lose a member or a citizen on that trip to the coast.

We beg to call the attention of Colonel George M. Bailey of the Houston Post, to the fact that the tax rolls of McLennan county show that the dogs of this county as carried on the rolls have an average value of $36 per head. Can you beat it?

It is said that when one tastes Brazos river water as a resident of Waco he always returns. There was a whole train load reached Waco yesterday morning after trying the salt water at Galveston.

We do not really know how much we enjoy Alessandro's band until it leaves us for a day. We are sure the people of Galveston enjoyed that Sunday concert, but it was lonesome at Cameron park.

Colonel Roosevelt's effort to get congressional recognition of the Anahuac club has failed. The committee scattered to the four winds of the country at the first utterance of the short and ugly word.

The West subscriber who asks us to state the plural for Bull Moose is informed there is none. He is the whole tribe and is spoken of in both the plural and singular.

WILL GO INTO COURT.

McNealus to Resist the Candidacy of Opponent.

By The Associated Press.
Dallas, Tex., Aug. 26.—State Senator J. C. McNealus today announced that if the prohibitionists make nominations for the prohibitionists in other "hold-over" districts in Texas as they have in this district, the sixth, he will go into court to prevent such names from being placed on the ballot. Although Senator McNealus' term has two years yet to run, the prohibitionists of this district nominated a candidate in opposition to him on the ground that all senatorial offices were vacated this fall because the legislature failed to redistrict under the last census.

COMMERCIAL SECRETARIES.

By The Associated Press.
Wichita Falls, Tex., Aug. 26.—Commercial secretaries representing the organizations of a score of Texas cities are in Wichita Falls for a three days' session to be devoted to discussion of methods and an institute on the work of the secretaries. The sessions are being held at Lake Wichita. On account of the lateness of those on this morning's program in arriving discussions scheduled were postponed until this afternoon. Trade excursions and immigration are two of the subjects discussed.

Tomorrow night the visiting secretaries will be banqueted by the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce.

REPORT ON MILITARY

A. & M. COLLEGE GETS A FINE SEND-OFF.

War Department Inspector Has a Very Fine Opinion of the School and Its Work.

By The Associated Press.

College Station, Tex., Aug. 26.—President R. T. Milner has received from the war department the report of the inspection of the military department of the A. & M. College of Texas which was made April 8 by Captain B. T. Simmons, general staff, U. S. A.

As a result of this inspection, the college was again ranked among the ten most distinguished military institutions in the United States.

In his report Captain Simmons says: "I inspected 823 cadets organized as a regiment of three battalions of four companies each, with a band, also an artillery detachment to which privates of the senior class are assigned. The review was excellent. The cadets are a fine body of young men and present a very military appearance. The arms were in good condition and clothing neat. Regimental parade and guard mounting were excellent and music by the band very good. Regimental battalion and company drills were very good. Cadet officers have good command of their organization. Company A formed an advance guard properly and had a very good understanding of the duty."

"The college maintains a hospital, which is in excellent condition. The report shows a very low percentage of sick. A good rifle range, with four targets, will soon be completed. Members of the senior and junior classes will have range practice before the end of the season. The military is a feature of the college and is in a very good condition. Lieutenant Fenton is well fitted for the duty as military instructor and has three valuable assistants in Sergeants Kenny, Koenig and Darbyshire."

Since the above report was written, Lieut. Fenton has been relieved by Lieut. Levi E. Brown of the Thirtieth cavalry, who is the new commandant.

BIRTHS EXCEED DEATHS

VITAL STATISTICS SHOW PEOPLE LIVE TO OLD AGE.

Forty-Five Sets of Twins During July, Nearly All in White Families.

By The Associated Press.

Austin, Tex., Aug. 26.—The vital statistics report of the state department for July is the most complete yet compiled.

There were 4264 births and 2243 deaths reported during the month; 2021 more births than deaths (almost twice as many) an increase in births over last month of 243 is shown, also an increase in deaths over that of June of 134. Forty-five sets of twins are recorded, 29 sets born to white parents and six sets to negroes.

One set of triplets was born to white parents in Coleman county.

The greatest number of deaths (329) reported for July were under the age of one year. Sixteen persons lived past the 90 mark. One white man in El Paso reached the age of 110 years, 2 months and 7 days. And another, an ex-slave in Harris county, lived to be 107 and another negro man in Grayson county died at 105 years of age. Diarrhoea and enteritis "under two years" with 212 reported deaths took first place as leading causes of deaths. Next came tuberculosis with 209 victims. 37 deaths from pellagra were reported—29 white and 8 colored.

There were 16 suicides, 29 drownings, 37 accidental deaths, five died from the effects of heat, lightning claimed one and twelve people were murdered.

NARCOTICS TO CHILDREN

PURE FOOD MEN SAY NEGROES ARE SELLING.

State Staff Goes to Fort Worth on Clean-Up Campaign There.

By The Associated Press.

Houston, Tex., Aug. 26.—J. S. Abbott, pure food and dairy commissioner, today announced the appointment of H. F. Browder of Denton as pure food inspector in his department to succeed Clifford Stone, re-elected to the legislature.

Practically the entire regular staff of the department went to Ft. Worth today to conduct a general investigation of food products and allied sanitary conditions in that city. They will also investigate the conditions in dairy herds supplying the public milk market as it has already been represented that a large number of such places are uncleanly.

As a result of Tarrant county's prosecution of the illicit sale of narcotics the department may ask the legislature to give it control of the enforcement of this statute. It has developed in the local investigation that negroes and others had to some extent been selling cocaine, morphine and gum opium to school children. It is claimed by the chemists and inspectors that the anti narcotics statute is very loosely enforced in some parts of Texas.

A census of London's motor cars recently made showed a total of 1932.

WACO LOSES TO AUSTIN

MILLER HAD THINGS CINCHED UNTIL FIFTH, WHEN TEAM BLEW UP.

SENATORS HEAVY HITTERS

Besides Pounding Navigators' Twister, They Got Many Passes—Houston Stays at Top.

By The Associated Press.

Austin, Aug. 26.—The Waco team blew up in a most ludicrous manner today and Austin won. In the fifth, hits brought in three runs for Waco, while Miller seemed to have the Senators at his mercy and the game was sewed up. Between Umpire McCulley and other incidents Miller was kept in the hole and gave costly bases on balls. Then the Senators began to hit and the Waco men made errors.

Galveston, Aug. 26.—Brandt was in unwhittable form today and Beaumont turned the tables on the locals, administering a shutout, 3 to 0. Harben's wildness in the early part of the game, combined with costly errors, was responsible for the scoring. Manager Wheeler of Beaumont, announced today that Holtz has been suspended for the rest of the season.

Shotten in the ninth kept the locals from winning.

Johnson relieved Hughes in the seventh inning of the second game with the score tied and two men on bases and St. Louis scored the winning run before the side was retired.

There was a question tonight that the loss of the game would be charged to Johnson, who had won 16 consecutive games and seeks to break the National League record of 19 straight games held by Marquard of the New York Nationals. Deciding in the case would rest with the president of the league, it was said.

Boston, Aug. 26.—Boston succumbed to Walsh's pitching today, losing to Chicago 4 to 2. Chicago hit Collins hard, and, with Boston fielding poorly and Walsh pitching in grand form and well supported, the result was never in doubt. Mattick's triple scored Walsh and Rath for Chicago's first two runs in the third, and the visitors added two more in the sixth on Collins' triple and errors by Gardner and Yerkes. The locals scored 1 in the first inning on two singles and a sacrifice and the second in the eighth, when Speaker's double sent Henriksen home, who had singled as a pinch hitter.

JOBBER TRADE

DOLLAR A TON IS THE ADVANCE ON WIRE, NAILS AND OTHER STAPLES.

SHORTAGE OF CARS

Advance in Sponges Announced by Druggists—Dry Goods and Groceries—Merchants Here.

An advance of $1 per ton on smooth wire, barbed wire, nails and staples, together with an advance of one-half of one percent of the list prices on all woven wire fences, and the withdrawal of the 4th quarter quotations on galvanized and corrugated flat sheets from the market, were interesting developments in the local hardware and iron goods markets Monday.

Notice in advance of price on wire and nails came in the form of a letter dated August 24th, and was to the effect that the advance became of immediate effect. Notice of withdrawal from the market of fourth quarter quotations on flat sheet iron came by telegram. The latter change in the market will not affect local wholesale houses to any great extent as in most instances they had already bought flat iron goods on fourth quarter prices, or had purchased enough of same on third quarter prices to bridge over the summer and fall season.

The change in price of nails and smooth, and barbed wire will have a more noticeable effect. Within the past forty days nails have advanced twenty cents per keg at the mills. Increased demands for iron goods of all kinds are responsible for increasing prices. According to information of wholesalers the mills are six weeks behind on the output of corrugated and galvanized iron goods, nails and many other articles of shelf hardware.

Car Shortage Already.

Car shortages have already begun to play an important part in the wholesale markets. One firm stated yesterday that with ten car loads of stoves on the wharf at New York, and with customers demanding immediate shipment of stoves, it was impossible to secure cars for the movement.

Asked if there was a probability of continued increase in prices of iron goods, a local wholesaler said: "Prices will continue to advance just as long as business is as good as it is. When the mills need business and there is no demand for their goods, then they will cut prices. At present the prices quoted by all the mills are identical. But you let business drop off and they will begin quoting under one another, in an effort to get the business. It's a case of combination for mutual benefit when business is good and each for himself when there is little business."

In Grocery Line.

In the wholesale grocery line jobbers are selling salmon for future delivery at lower prices than have been quoted on this article for years. Reports are to the effect that two weeks of cold weather and heavy rains in the Michigan pickle belt may cause an advance in the price of pickles. An advance of five points in all hog products, over the prices of last week are announced Monday, with no change in other staple articles.

Advance in Sponges.

In the wholesale drug market, an advance in the prices of sponges is expected, and may come into effect Tuesday. Already an advance of from 10 per cent to 20 per cent has occurred in this article, but has not been announced at this market. This advance is heavier for the better grade of sponge, and is brought about by reason of the limited supply.

Out-of-Town Merchants.

The new week opened up Monday with prospects for a good business in all lines. Many out-of-town merchants were here purchasing supplies, among whom were the following:

At the Herring Hardware Co., H. J. Hallischer, of Westphalia, Texas. Mr. Stewart buying for the Buckholtz Mercantile Co., of Burlington, Mr. Konarik, of the firm of Konarik & Katinek, of Granger.

At the McLendon Hardware Co., E. E. Watson of Ireland, Thos. Blinks, of Buckholts, W. S. Marshall of Abbott, and J. W. Shaw of Dawson, buying for Gln Brothers.

At the Taylor-Hanna-James Grocery Co., Mr. Freeman of the firm of Freeman & Brunsen of Clinton, W. S. Webb, of Robinsonville, E. W. Hawkins of Elk, J. W. Price of Norwood and F. E. Bressler of Gholson.

At the Waco Drug Co., Thomas Blinks of Buckholts, and W. T. Presnell of China Springs.

At C. H. Cox & Co., H. Miller of Gorman.

At Rotan Grocery Co., J. P. Harrell of Lenora, T. C. Morris of Ocea, and W. R. Dasher of Stephenville.

At Behrens Drug Co., L. V. Henry of The Reisel Drug Co. of Reisel, Texas, and G. C. Cox of Plinn, Texas.

At the Tom Padgett Wholesale Saddle Co., T. D. Dickson of Dawson, Texas. Trade was especially brisk in the dry goods line, the following out-of-town buyers visiting Sanger Bros. wholesale dry goods establishment to choose fall goods:

George B. Thompson buying for Thompson Bros., Malakoff, Tex.; H. Miller, of Gorman, Herman Hoelscher, and H. J. Hoelscher, buying for H. J. Hoelscher & Son of Westphalia, Texas; Reeves Patterson, buying for Patterson Dry Goods Co., of Rotan; J. W. Hamrick, buying for Hamrick Bros., Gorman, Texas; W. E. Withers and Miss Casparis, buying for Withers & Spaulding, Johnson City, Texas.

Mr. Stasky, buying for Bremont Cash Store, Bremont, Texas; Mr. Watson, buying for Watson Bros., Jonesboro, Texas; Mr. Glenn, buying for Roundtree & Co., Whitney, Texas; Miss Foster, buying for J. R. Foster, Carbon, Texas; Mr. Schiller, buying for Schil-

There was no change in the local produce market yesterday, over that announced Monday morning. Sweet potatoes were placed on the market at $1.50 the bushel. Country eggs, butter, chickens and other staples remained unchanged.

New York, Aug. 26.—Trade in cotton goods for fall delivery was good with first hands. Such goods held firm. Some gray goods were easier. Worst dress goods moved freely for both fall and spring delivery.

COTTON ON LOW LEVEL

OCTOBER AND JANUARY CONTRACTS BREAK THROUGH.

Lower Liverpool Cables and Favorable Weather and Crop Reports Rule Day's Activity.

By The Associated Press.

New York, Aug. 26.—After a very quiet morning, the cotton market became inactive and weak, with prices breaking into new low ground and with the close easy at a net decline of 22 to 26 points. The market opened steady at a decline of 5 to 9 points in response to lower Liverpool cables. Private advices attributed the weakness of the English market to free offerings of actual and a general favorable view was expressed as to early crop and weather news. The bearish news, however, did not seem to inspire immediate pressure and the market fluctuated within a range of 4 or 5 points during the morning. There appeared to be no change in the general character of the news later, but the market met increased offerings after midday, and as soon as prices began to ease off, local selling showed increasing aggressiveness. Scattering short interests evidently had covered pretty freely late last week, and with support from this source lacking, the decline met comparatively little opposition. At any rate, both October and January contracts broke through the 11c level, or through the point of resistance from which rallies had occurred no less than three times during the past ten days, and the market in the late trading showed a net loss of 23 to 26 points. October contracts sold to 10.99c and January touched 10.97c. Closing prices were within a point or two of the lowest.

There were further complaints of drought damage in south Texas and the weather in that section remained dry, but private advices indicated a good improvement in the Georgia crop, and there were rumors of a favorable private condition report to be published within the next two or three days. Stop orders were uncovered just below 11c for January contracts, and the buying at the decline was attributed chiefly to trade interests and local shorts.

Receipts today 16,965 bales, against 6177 last week and 18,428 last year. Today's receipts at New Orleans 86, against 1753 last year, and at Houston 29,591, against 29,953 last year.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

By The Associated Press.

New Orleans, Aug. 26.—Cotton futures opened steady at a decline of 5 to 7 points on good weather and crop reports over Sunday. Cables were about as expected. The market was dull in the early trading and business was chiefly of an evening up nature. Scattered shorts were taken, but the market was generally well impressed with bearish comment concerning the demand for spot cotton and the extent of offerings for new crop grades. At the end of the first half hour prices were 5 to 6 points under Saturday's close. At a level 7 points down on all trading months the market began to steady and started to react on buying, which appeared to come mainly from shorts. Absence of rains in Texas and the forecast of fair weather all over the western half of the belt stimulated the buying. The market made no great display of buying power, however, and was held down by reports from spot people that Texas was offering the new crop very freely at concessions. At noon prices were 2 to 3 points under Saturday's close. This was the highest of the morning. The close was barely steady at a net decline of 26 to 27 points.

WHEAT HAS BEARISH TONE

PROMISE OF LARGER RECEIPTS AND WEATHER FACTORS.

Higher Corn Yield Estimates Cause Heavy Selling—Oats Take Downward Turn.

By The Associated Press.

Chicago, Aug. 26.—Promise of larger shipments from the Dakotas and Minnesota gave the wheat market today an easy tone. The close was ¼c lower than forty-eight hours before. Corn finished irregular, a shade off to ¼c up, oats down 1-16c, and provisions varying from 5c decline to 7½c up.

Although sentiment in the wheat pit had a bearish cast, selling seemed to be held in check. The chief reason was fear of frost tonight in the Canadian northwest. On the other hand, the weather this side of the international boundary was fine, improving the conditions for thrashers and leading to predictions of a heavier movement to terminal markets. Bulls were compelled also to face southwestern receipts more than double those of a year ago. After opening firm on account of European crop damage due to heavy rains, wheat prices headed downward and showed but little rallying power until after noon, when there was gossip that exporters were taking a liberal share of the surplus yield in Oklahoma and southern Kansas.

Covering by shorts late in the day rallied the corn market. Most of the session, however, a rather heavy selling prevailed. Southwestern messages were raising estimates on the yield and there was excellent weather in all directions. Cash grades were weak.

Consignments of oats from the country today were the largest of the season. Exports were liberal, though, and taxed the shipping facilities here. Provisions ruled higher on account of an advance in the price of hogs, due to scarcity, compared with a year ago. Interest centered chiefly in lard. That staple and ribs wound up 2½c above Saturday's close.

The close follows:

Wheat—Sept. 93½c, Dec. 94½c, May 97½c.

Corn—Sept. 72½c, Dec. 54½c, May 53½c.

Oats—Sept. 32½c, Dec. 32½c, May 31½c.

Pork—Sept. $17.81½, Oct. $18.00@10½, Jan. $19.20.

Lard—Sept. $11.02½, Oct. $11.12½, Dec. $10.85, Jan. $10.80.

Ribs—Sept. $10.97½, Oct. $11.00@10½, Jan. $10.20.

Chicago Cash Grain.

Wheat—No. 2 red $1.05@1.06, No. 2 hard 95½c@96c, No. 1 northern 97@99c, No. 2 northern 95@97c, No. 2 spring 95@98c, velvet chaff 90@95c, durum 90@95c, Corn—No. 2 74½@80½c, No. 2 white 80½@81c, No. 2 yellow 80@81c, Oats—No. 2 white, 32½@33c, standard 32½@35c.

False Reasons for Tariff.

"I have lived long enough to follow the changing reasons advanced for the high protective tariff. I have found them all to be shifty, uncertain and dishonorable. First, it was to pay off the war debt by compelling the foreign manufacturer to contribute to the United States treasury, before it was to foster our infant industries, then to protect American labor against the pauper labor of Europe; and finally, in the last campaign, to equalize the cost of production at home and abroad. At last the frank statement was made that the government proposed to take its manufacturers into partnership with it and that this partnership was proposing to sell to the consumers of this country all the necessities of life, except those grown upon the farms, not for the benefit of the government, but for the benefit of the manufacturer.

"I myself have never been able to determine what system of business or ethics should induce a government to form a partnership with a man who made the cloth that is in my coat while totally refusing to form a partnership with me who buys the coat and wears it.

"The relentless cruelty to the consumer is shown by the fact that the products are sold at less price to the people abroad than to the people at home. Surplus products, it is explained, but if not explained why men go on from year to year making products in vast quantities that are needed, only to sell the surplus at a loss. I am in favor of a system of taxation which will compel the protected manufacturer to sell the surplus at home and the product abroad. This will for the first time in history compel the foreigner to pay the tax.

Republicans Stand Pat.

"The Republicans stand pat and progressive has been responsible for this condition of affairs. They do not recede from this system but they propose to give us some sort of a scientific investigation which may disclose, like the declaration of independence that in the course of human events some slight changes should be made in the schedules. I cannot say how soon these inquiries can be adjusted and these burdens removed from the people, but I do say that boards and commissions and experts are too slow; that it is the duty of the congress of high living from the people and that the democratic theory of tariff for revenue is the only defensible theory."

GOV. MARSHALL OPENS FIGHT

ADVOCATES TARIFF REFORMS TO TAKE BURDEN FROM CONSUMER.

CRITICISES REPUBLICANS

Says Past Experiences Indicate There's No Hope for Relief from Taft or Teddy.

By The Associated Press.

Portland, Me., Aug. 26.—Governor Thomas R. Marshall of Indiana, opened his campaign in Maine tonight with a speech devoted in greater part to the tariff. In summing up his conclusions the speaker said:

"Why must the consumer always be the goat? I believe in vested rights, but I don't believe in vested wrongs. I don't particularly censure the manufacturers for getting all they can, but I contend that the proof of the iniquity is so plain that the blame is the peoples."

In part Governor Marshall said: "It is idle for some men to make declarations. Broken promises are oft-times more eloquent than their words."

"Who is going to believe the regular republican organization when it declares that it is opposed to special privileges?"

Does any one doubt that for seven and one-half years the leader of the Progressive party was in power in this country? Can any one put his finger upon a single effort made by him to curb the monopolistic tendency which was then rampant? Does any one believe that

MR. ABEL WILL BUILD

NEW HOUSE WILL GO UP ON MARY STREET.

Land Mark on Corner of Eighth Will Probably Be Torn Down in a Short Time.

It is very likely that as soon as Alfred Abel returns to the city he will arrange to build a new brick house at the corner of Eighth and Mary streets, adjoining the property of the Big Four Ice company.

The old red brick now on the corner, which was damaged by the second fire which occurred yesterday, is a landmark. It belonged for thirty years to Tom Padgett, and it was his intention during this year to build on it, but lately Mr. Abel made him an offer on it and the sale was made. Mr. Abel at that time expressed his intention of building on the property, a house similar to that he owns on Eighth street. If this improvement is made it will improve that section of the town very much. The building now on the corner is used for a storage house and is occupied downstairs by repair men.

Mrs. Lucy Elliott will erect a handsome two-story frame residence at 806 Speight street. The structure will cost $5000 or more, and work is to commence at once. A building permit was taken out Monday.

CONGRESS ENDS SESSION

the senate session adjourned sine die and the remnant of the senate wandered out of the chamber.

After recessing from 2:25 to 3:35 the house transacted little business. It passed a bill of Representative Carlin of Virginia, democrat, providing penalties for the breaking of seals on cars in interstate commerce, adopted the concurrent resolution on adjournment, and then proceeded to block all other attempts at legislation.

A resolution providing for an extra pay for employees of senate died a natural death without consideration. The resolution was a substitute for a preceding one that would have provided the extra month's pay for employees of both senate and house. House democrats had gone on record as opposed to such legislation.

PLUNGE INTO CAMPAIGN.

Most of Congress Members Will Soon Start Political Fight.

Washington, Aug. 26.—Primed for the strenuous campaign of the two months that precede the November elections, members of the senate and house hurried out of town tonight or made reservations for the next few days, to get what rest is possible before the wearying round of political meetings begins.

Speaker Clark tonight prepared to leave for Maine, where he is to speak this week. Senator Clapp, progressive, will leave tomorrow for Vermont to make speeches. Former Speaker Cannon confided to friends that he intended to "hang around" for a few days to get up a collection of campaign literature.

"Then I'm going out on the stump,"

he said, "and when I make a statement that anybody challenges, I'll be loaded for him."

Republicans Are Active.

The more active leaders of the regular republican forces in the senate will not begin campaign work for a few weeks. Senator Crane left tonight for Massachusetts and will in a short time become an active figure in republican campaign work as an advisory member of the republican national committee.

Senator La Follette will remain in Washington for a week or so and then go to Wisconsin. He has stated he would endeavor to go into all the progressive states during the campaign, aiding state candidates of a republican progressive type. Senator Poinsett of Washington, one of the strong progressives of the senate, will visit Col. Roosevelt at New York and spend some time before getting actively in the campaign.

Democratic Leader Underwood of the house will take a ten days' "rest cure" at Hot Springs, Va., and will do no active campaigning before October. Later he expects to speak for Gov. Wilson in eastern states.

Senator Simmons of North Carolina will go to New York to confer with the leaders of the democratic national committee and then hasten to his home state, where he is a candidate for reelection. Senator Bacon, after a visit to Georgia, expects to return north for political speeches.

Henry Goes to Maine.

Representative Henry of Texas, chairman of the house rules committee, will also enter the Maine campaign. He left for there tonight and later will return to Texas. After Sept. 30 he will fill speaking dates in New Mexico, Arizona, California, Washington, North and South Dakota, Kansas, Missouri, Indiana and Ohio.

Representative Mann of Illinois, the republican house leader, will leave tomorrow and will plunge into the important work of attending to woods and other things that have grown in the garden of his Chicago home. Mr. Mann does on rutabaga turnips and Jennie Lind potatoes, flowers and what not of city rural life.

Representative Heflin of Alabama and other democratic spellbinders in the house are leaving their time open to the assignments of the party committee.

PRESIDENT TAKES A REST.

Is Off to Beverly, Where He Will Stay Till December.

By The Associated Press.

Washington, Aug. 26.—Within an hour of the adjournment of congress today President Taft was on his private car, bound for Beverly and a vacation he expects will be broken but little until December. The white house tonight was practically deserted, but Major Thomas L. Rhoads, the president's personal aide, Assistant Secretaries Foster and Brahay and most of the office employees left with the president. Summer offices will be opened there at once, and probably most of the force will stay in Beverly until late in October.

The president will return to Washington for a one-day stay early in September, and only once again later in that month, to keep engagements made long ago, but he does not expect to spend many days in the white house again until election time. He probably will receive the returns in the white house. Later he plans to spend a few weeks at Hot Springs, Va.

The president had almost lost hope of getting away tonight when he left the executive offices at lunch time. When he was informed that there was a good chance of adjournment he ordered his automobile brought to the white house door immediately, and as soon as luncheon was finished, hurried to the capital.

Only a few resolutions and bills were waiting for his signature, and many senators and congressmen dropped in to say good-bye.

Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh and Postmaster General Hitchcock were two cabinet members left in town who spent an hour or two in the president's room. The latter's pleasure at the prospect of getting away was unmistakable and his laugh was frequently evident. He signed the last bill laid before him with a flourish and a sigh of satisfaction.

"So you don't want to take a hand in active politics?" "No," replied the discouraged looking woman. "What's the use of giving my husband still further chance to say it's my fault when anything goes wrong?"—Washington Star.

IDLE SUNDAY BUSY MONDAY

THERE WILL BE CONGESTION IN POSTOFFICE UNDER NEW FEDERAL LAW.

WILL NEED MORE HELP

Postmaster Hoffmann Will Not Comment, But Waits to Get Advice from Washington.

Handicaps to commercial interests, a congested condition in the postoffices on Monday, burdensome loads for carriers on that day, and a great increased revenue from special delivery letters will be the result, it is believed, of one of the provisions of the new postal appropriation bill passed by congress and signed by President Taft.

According to this provision, all first and second-class postoffices will be closed on Sunday, no mail will be placed in the lock boxes, and only special delivery letters will pass through on the Sabbath. Postoffices in a number of cities have remained closed all day Sunday for the past six months, but that was due merely to the local sentiment. Now it will be required by law, and every important city in the United States will be affected thereby.

Postmaster Hoffmann withholds any comment regarding the change, pending advice from the postoffice department relative to any new arrangement that might be specified for handling the mails. If he is permitted extra help on Monday, the new law will not work such a hardship on the offices and public on Monday, but members of the regular office force alone would be up to their ears in work on Monday morning, and carriers would be delayed because of the vast accumulation over Sunday.

Heretofore the Waco postoffice has kept open on Sunday from 9 to 10 o'clock in the morning. This opening applied to the general delivery, the stamp window, and the registered letter department. Mail was distributed and placed in the boxes on Sunday just as any other day, and people having boxes could get their mail at any hour.

When the order went into effect requiring all carriers' windows to be closed on Sunday, many patrons served by the free delivery, rented boxes for their mail on Sabbath and holidays, the requirement in such cases being for clerks to place mail in the lock boxes that ordinarily went to the residence.

When the new provision of the postal appropriation bill goes into effect, it is probable that an effort will be made to secure three more carriers for Waco. Three more are needed. At the present time there are 17. This number was allowed by the postoffice department on the basis of the last census, giving Waco a population of 25,000. Postmaster Hoffmann estimates that the population is now 37,000. On Monday, when there is a two days' mail to be delivered, the carriers have a hard time getting over their routes one time. Other days they are sometimes unable to cover the routes twice, as is expected of them. With three more carriers, the service would be greatly improved.

Local News Notes

Two negroes, John Terrell and Collier McCurren, were arrested yesterday by Officer Head for violating the street traffic ordinance.

Manuel Zapata, a Mexican railroad construction worker, received a dangerous knife wound in the back at a place on Columbus alley late last night.

Frank P. Holland, Jr., of the Farm and Ranch, and W. F. Dean, of Dallas, came in last night for a few days' visit in Waco. Mr. Holland was the promoter of the automobile tour of farmers and ranchmen which recently ran from Dallas to San Antonio. They are at the State House.

A prisoner in the city jail is identified by Peter Irving, a farmer, as the man who duped him out of $20 Saturday night. Officers Rotan and Harbour arrested the man at Eighth and Franklin streets. Irving said the man promised to get him several cotton pickers and asked to borrow a $20 bill for a few minutes. The man was to walk over to a pool hall just to "show the boys that he had money." Irving accompanied him, but in a crowd he got his last glimpse of the stranger.

The city commissioners are still deliberating over the purchase of three new city automobiles. All bids have been received, but they are delaying the formal purchase until they investigate all the bids and the machines they represent. Fire Commissioner Wright will make the selection of the combination pumper and hose wagon and chief's cart for the fire department. Mayor Mackey, Commissioner Caulfield and City Engineer Byars will select the automobile for the street department.

MOVING PICTURE SUIT

INJUNCTION AGAINST CITY ORDINANCE IS SET FOR HEARING.

Judge Robertson of Bell County to Sit Second Week of September in Case.

September 9 is the date set for the hearing of J. D. Lempe's application to enjoin the city commissioners from enforcing the new moving picture show regulations. Other show managers are parties to the complaint against the city. The application will be heard by Judge John D. Robertson, of Bell county, who will exchange benches for the week with Judge Marshall Surratt of the Waco court.

The application has been pending since Jan. 13. Several articles in the city ordinance are attacked in Mr. Lempe's petition, but it is understood the main fight will be made over the clause regulating the entrances to the operating rooms in the shows. The ordinance provides for but one small opening from the operator's room to the main auditorium. That opening is to be 6x12 inches and is to be used for flashing the pictures from the machine to the canvas. It is to be provided with a spring door in order that it may be instantly closed in case of fire. The ordinance specifies that the operator shall enter and leave the room through a passageway, which shall not open into the main auditorium. It is this clause to which the show managers object.

City Attorney Williams and his assistant, W. R. Saunders, will represent the city in this contest. W. L. Eason will urge the injunction for Lempe. The clause regulating the openings in the operating rooms, where all the fire hazards exist, has been approved by the state insurance commissioner.

Tiley prosecuted the case.

TO FINANCE COTTON CROP.

Southern States Corporation Organizes in This City.

R. E. Alexander, organizer for the Southern States Cotton corporation, was in Waco yesterday and completed the county organization for McLennan county, which includes a number of the leading men of Central Texas. The following are the names of the directors: Ed Archer, chairman, of West; J. C. Reynolds, vice chairman, of Moody; Dr. J. E. Brown, secretary, of McGregor; Dr. T. P. Miles, of Lorena; A. C. Wendor, of West; W. L. Steele, of West; and W. Walker, of Waco.

The meetings in each of the towns were attended by several of the leading farmers, bankers and business men and received the support of all who attended. There will be public speakings, explaining the marketing system for the cotton crop as proposed by the Southern States cotton corporation as fast as the speakers can cover the county. The farmers over the entire state are attending these speakings and giving their strongest endorsement to the plan, which is as follows: The corporation has pledged to it foreign capital enough to finance the cotton crop of the south. The farmer is expected to list his cotton with the company by Sept. 1, 1912, so that they will know just how much cotton they will have to handle. The farmer who lists his cotton with the company will list it to town as soon after gathering as possible and place same in warehouse and draw 11 cents per pound, or $55 per bale cash, and a voucher or due bill for 4 cents per pound or $20 per bale due when cotton is sold, said voucher to draw interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum. The company pays all expenses, such as weighing, sampling, storage and insurance.

The only expense that the farmer pays is the $1 per bale commission for selling.

DILLARD BACK AFTER TRIP

FREIGHT DEFICIENCIES OF THIS TERRITORY LOOKED INTO.

TO GO TO FORT WORTH

Where He Will Help Form Protest Against Tariff in Interest of Northern Houses.

J. C. Dillard, traffic manager of the Waco freight bureau, has returned from a week's trip over Waco trade territory. He visited the various division and junction points for the purpose of remedying deficiencies that have been occurring and to expedite all shipments from this city as much as possible.

Mr. Dillard will represent Waco at the meeting in Fort Worth August 30-31 of the Four States Traffic League, composed of traffic organizations in Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and Arkansas. The main purpose of the conference is for preparing a brief to present to the Interstate Commerce Commission, showing why the changes in Western Classification No. 51 should not be allowed to go into effect. Waco and other cities are vitally concerned.

Classification No. 51 was issued December 30, 1911, by the Western Classification Committee, representing all railroads west of the Mississippi river. It was to become effective February 15, 1912, but is now under suspension by the Interstate Commerce Commission until December 14 next.

The classification calls for about 2500 changes, including increase in rates and other shipping conditions, and is a vital blow at retail and jobbing business in the Southwest, in the opinion of traffic men, who say that the big interests of Chicago are behind the move.

"Should the classification be permitted to go into effect, it would spell disaster to the entire jobbing and retail interests of Texas," commented Mr. Dillard yesterday. "Such houses as Sears, Roebuck & Company, and Montgomery Ward & Company, for example, would be given every advantage in rate and shipping requirements. There are hundreds of other disadvantages shouldered upon the wholesalers and retailers that must not be carried out if the combined efforts of the Southwest can prevent it."

MUST BILL ALL EXPRESS.

Packages Cannot be Handled in a Hurry at Train Time.

The man who rushes up to the expressman with a package and demands that it be shipped on the train which is due in just a few minutes is likely to come to grief after September 1.

In line with a recent Interstate Commerce Commission order, the expressman has got to go through a half dozen details before the package can be shipped. Therefore, unless he receives the package in sufficient time, the chances are it will be held over to the next train. Robert Frazier, agent of the American Express Company, and R. E. L. Montgomery, agent of the Wells-Fargo Company, have issued a statement to Waco patrons warning them of the intricacies of this order.

Every package has got to be properly billed, weighed, routed and put through every other detail before it can be placed on the train. "This order puts extra work on us," said Mr. Frazier last night. "It changes all the features of the expressman's business, adds detail to the work and makes it much slower. I would advise the patrons to give us more time on express packages."

TELLS OF COTTON TRAIN.

C. H. Carringer, commercial agent of the Santa Fe, has returned from Galveston, where he attended important conferences of the officials of the Gulf lines. The annual cotton meeting, held in the offices of General Freight Agent J. S. Hershey, resulted in the formulation of plans for the handling of the 1912 crop. The result that concerns this part of the state was the decision to put on a special daily cotton train, running out of Temple, Cotton on all connecting roads and branch points will be lined up to connect with this train, which leaves Temple at 7 p. m. and reaches Galveston for early morning delivery the following day. The operation of the train began yesterday. The operating department assured the traffic department that the schedule would be regularly maintained. As marketing north will warrant it, the special service will be extended gradually to Cleburne, Gainesville and Ardmore.

Mr. Carringer joined the parade of the Waco trade trippers at Galveston and was one of the most enthusiastic members of the party.

ATTACK ON FREIGHT RATES.

Washington, Aug. 26.—An attack by the Augusta, Ga., Chamber of Commerce upon recently increased freight rates on fruits and vegetables from New York City and other New York points to Augusta was laid before the Interstate Commerce commission today. The new rates are declared to be excessive and discriminatory and demand is made that they be reduced to the old scale, in effect for many years.

EXPECTS BIG CROPS.

Portland, Ore., Aug. 26.—Judge Robert S. Lovett, chairman of the executive committee of the board of directors of the Harriman lines, who arrived here last night, said that after an inspection of the wheat fields of the country west of the Missouri river, he believed the railroads would be able to handle the crops, though it would tax them to do it.

WELLS-FARGO MEN MEET.

By The Associated Press. Texarkana, Ark., Aug. 26.—Twenty-eight Texas agents of the Wells-Fargo met here Sunday to arrange for the adoption of a new way billing system ordered by the Interstate Commerce commission. Superintendent E. H. Tyler, presided.

BURNED BRIDGE DELAYS TRAIN.

A burned bridge about midway between Hubbard City and Corsicana late Sunday delayed traffic on the Cotton Belt for about eight hours. The passenger train due here early Sunday evening did not arrive until 2 o'clock Sunday morning.

LEHANE IS HERE.

J. F. Lehane, general freight and passenger agent of the Cotton Belt, spent yesterday in Waco en route to Tyler. He says the trade trip to Galveston proved as thoroughly satisfactory to the railroad as to the Waco business interests. He was one of the trippers.

BIG FOUR HAS BURN OUT

McCrory says are "scattered all over the world." He estimates there were $7000 or $8000 worth of goods in this storage. Some of it was bird's eye maple, some walnut and other good pieces of furniture. He could not give any idea to whom it all belonged or the value of it.

Down stairs there was a tin shop owned by Thomas & Powers at 225 South Eighth. They had tools and material to the value of $800 in the place, most of which was gotten out. There was no insurance.

At 227 South Eighth street was the Waco Welding Company, owned by Jess Tomkins. He had property with in valued at $1000. There was no insurance and the stock and material was damaged more or less.

B. R. McConnell had an automobile at the rear of this place, but got it out.

General Repair Shop.

At 231 South Eighth street there was a general repair shop owned by T. E. Duncan. He had tools and material to the value of between $500 and $600 with no insurance whatever. He will lose a great deal by water. In his place was a lot of furniture valued at about $1000, which is owned by people who have given it to him to repair. There was one desk in there owned by Cameron & Co. valued at $150. The water damage is heavy in this place.

On the corner Chester Hays had a cleaning establishment, but he got all of his property out before the water came down on him.

Owner of Big Four Absent.

The Big Four Ice Company is owned by Alfred Abeel, who is now in California. William C. Abeel, his son, who is the manager of the plant, is in Battle Creek, Mich. The property was being handled by L. L. Winn, assistant manager, and Chief Engineer Schrader. As soon as they could do so, telegrams were sent to Alfred Abeel and to Manager W. C. Abeel. Manager Abeel started home at once.

The report at the office of the company is that the plant will be rebuilt at once. While figures on the loss are given out at the plant as $50,000, there is no one who saw the wreck of the engine room will estimate it under $100,000, and there are many who believe it will be much more.

There was no insurance on the Big Four plant. It is stated that Mr. Abeel carries his own insurance and that he had no policies covering the property against fire.

HOUSE ON NORTH SIXTH.

A "haunted" house, located at 1219 North Sixth street and owned and occupied by M. M. Decker, a negro woman, was practically destroyed by fire at 4 o'clock Monday morning. The cause of the blaze is unknown. The woman had $200 insurance on the structure.

Negroes in the neighborhood told Fire Marshal Dan Nicholson the house was "shot" haunted. Many of them shield fear of it. A death occurred there some time ago. The Decker woman had not been at home since Saturday.

VISITING IN HOME STATE.

Texas Boys Back After Tour of Asiatic Waters.

J. Jeann's coxswain on the California, and D. H. Michano, quartermaster on the South Dakota, are in Waco for their four months' leave of absence, following the expiration of their four years' enlistment in the navy.

Mr. Jeann's is an old Waco boy and Mr. Michano's home is at Houston. The two boys entered as apprentice seamen at $17.50 per month. By careful attention to duty they worked themselves up to responsible positions, and if they decide to re-enlist at the end of their four months' leave of absence they will be further advanced and their pay increased to $40 a month.

During their four years' service in the navy they have lived exclusively in foreign waters, being located on what is known as the Asiatic station, which includes cruising about China, Japan and the Philippine Islands. The isolation of the station enables the sailors to save practically all they make. Jeann's and Michano have profited by this advantage and are now in a position to do something else if they decide not to re-enlist.

Both boys formerly associated with C. H. Miller, chief master at arms of the United States navy and recruiting officer at Waco. They were with the local officer in the Asiatic station. The latter has been in the naval service 15 years. He served through the Spanish-American war.

KILLS SELF ON THE STREET

J. E. HICKMAN TURNS PISTOL TO HIS HEAD FOR FINAL SHOT.

FIRES AT FORMER WIFE

She Falls Over Fence in Flight and He Kills Himself When He Thought She Was Dead.

J. E. Hickman, age 31, fired a bullet into his own head near Thirteenth and Clay streets at 7:30 o'clock last night after he had fired three wild shots at his former wife, Mrs. Nora Richardson, and Lewis Ephraim, a young grocery clerk. Hickman died almost instantly. When the woman fell over a fence in her flight he thought he had killed her and turned the weapon on himself.

Ephraim and Mrs. Richardson were walking together when Hickman approached them, drew a pistol and began firing. The first two shots were directed at Ephraim, who began to run when he saw the pistol; the third was aimed at the woman and the fourth went into Hickman's brain. Ephraim's coat was torn and a bullet went directly between the woman's pedal extremities, as bullet holes in her skirt indicated.

"I'll Kill You Both." Hickman advanced to within twenty feet of the couple before he drew the pistol. "Now is as good a time as any," he said. "I'll kill you both," and opened fire.

"Elmer, don't do that," the former wife says she cried as she started toward him. The woman stopped short and tried to climb a fence when she saw the first flash of the pistol. When Hickman fired at her, the woman fell over the fence and landed in a heap in the yard at the Flanagan home, 1229 Clay street.

"I've killed you, now I'll kill myself," Mrs. Richardson heard Hickman say as she lay on the ground. She heard another report of the pistol, but did not stop to consider its meaning but ran through the yard and crawled under the porch of the Flanagan home. She came from her hiding place when other people reached Hickman and she heard them say he had killed himself.

Ephraim stopped his flight nearly a block away, and in company with a Mr. Harrel, walked back to the scene where Hickman lay on the sidewalk.

Dying When Officers Came.

Hickman was dying when Officers Carlisle and Morgan arrived. Both Mrs. Richardson and Ephraim were there. Blood and brains were coming from the man's right ear, where the bullet entered. He used a .32 caliber pistol. It was what the police call a "Saturday night gun."

Hickman's gray haired mother was bending over his body and sobbing a few minutes later. She is Mrs. W. H. Criss and lives with her husband on North Eleventh street. Her son was born and reared in Waco she said.

Hickman and his wife were divorced last May after three years of married life. She lives with her mother, Mrs. W. E. Hasha, at 625 South Eleventh street. Hickman has been boarding nearby at 701 South Tenth street.

Mrs. Richardson's Story.

Mrs. Richardson, age 29, very pretty and stylishly dressed, told her romantic story to Justice Dan Ford at the inquest, which was held at the city hall an hour after the tragedy. She was not excited and smiled frequently at incidents she related. She laughed at Hickman's poor aim. "It's a funny place to try to kill anybody," she said, pointing at the holes in her dress below the knees.

Her maiden name was Nora Wright, and she has lived in Waco for nine years. She married Hickman in March of 1909 when she was 17 years old. She called Hickman "Red" the name by which he was known all over town. She was his second wife, she said.

"When Red came toward us I had no idea that he had a pistol," she said. "He looked mad, and I thought he would have something to say, but I did not expect anything serious. He has threatened me only recently, but I did not think anything about it. He wanted me to marry him again, and he kept at it all the time."

Nursed Him in Illness.

"We were divorced in the spring. Red was manager of the Hippodrome theater, and it was about a month ago when we heard that he was sick and had no one to care for him. He was sleeping in the theater. Mamma 'phoned him and told him to come on out to our home. She said we would take care of him until he got well. He came out right away and I gave up my room to him. For a week he was there in bed and mamma and myself took care of him. When he got up he said, 'Mrs. Hasha, I want to board with you; this place seems like home to me—it is the only home I've got.' Well, mamma, let him stay and he paid her four dollars a week."

"He commenced right away to try to get me to marry him again. I told him no—that we did not get along when we were living together and I knew we never could. We went out to shows with him and he insisted on my marrying him again. The other day I told mamma to tell him to go away; that he was worrying me and I just could not stand it. But he did not leave the house. Tonight I walked a block with him. I thought he was going to town."

Mar Fall Was Lucky.

"I don't believe Red would have shot himself if I had not fallen over that fence. I was scared and don't really know how I got over the fence, but I heard him say, 'I've killed you—'

HEAR ABOUT COTTON PALACE.

Trade Trip Has Aroused Interest in Big Show.

As a result of the trade trip to Galveston the Cotton Palace will receive from the territory covered by the excursion 50 per cent more visitors than it would otherwise have had from that section.

This is the estimate of S. N. Mayfield, secretary of the Cotton Palace, who visited the towns along the route in advance of the excursion, advertising the big fall event, arranging means to continue boosting it at each place, and receiving assurances from the leading citizens that they would bring large crowds from their respective sections. The 50 per cent increase in the attendance from the country visited by the Waco boosters is a big item, which alone would have been worth the trip.

W. H. Hoffmann, president of the Cotton Palace, declared yesterday that the excursion was the most powerful advertising stunt ever pulled off, not only for the Cotton Palace, which he says will benefit immensely, but for the city as a whole.

Health and Beauty Answers

BY MRS. MAE MARTIN.

Maude W.: The "stringy" condition of your hair is due to the use of soap and liquid shampoos containing "free" alkali. You can quickly correct this condition by shampooing with canthrox, a teaspoonful of which dissolved in a cup hot water is ample for a thorough cleansing. The canthrox mixture thoroughly dissolves dust and dandruff and neutralizes excess oil. Rinsing leaves hair and scalp wonderfully clean and sweet, and the hair dries quickly, with an even, rich color. Nothing equals canthrox for restoring the brilliance and silky fluffiness to the hair.

Gertrude B.: I know of nothing better to protect the complexion during summer than a plain spumax lotion. This is made by stirring 2 teaspoonfuls of glycerine into 1/2 pint of water, then add 1 ounce alcohol. After this is dissolved apply generously and rub in well. Pimples and blackheads yield to this simple treatment and fine lines and hollows vanish as if by magic. You will find a spumax lotion excellent to use in connection. For recipe, see answer to Gertrude B.

Marion: You will find great relief after taking parnotis, because it dissolves the fatty tissues gently and leaves no ill after effects. To prepare, dissolve 4 ounces parnotis in 1 1/2 pints hot water, then take a tablespoonful before each meal. This is a safe, certain method for taking off fat, and when the desired weight is reached, the flesh is left firm and the skin is free from wrinkles. No vigorous exercise nor disagreeable dieting is required when this treatment is employed.

Meiba M.: Liver spots and pimples indicate impure blood and you should take a karende tonic to expel this poisonous matter. You
